EXPERIENCE WORLD-CLASS WINE MAKING ON TRAVERSE CITY'S WINE TRAIL

Jutting north between the azure arms of Lake Michigan's Grand Traverse Bay lies Old Mission Peninsula. Situated uniquely at the globe's 45th parallel – the ideal climate for growing varietal wine grapes – the eight wineries that comprise this stunning appellation have been well recognized by international wine enthusiasts.

Each of these wineries benefits from the unique protection afforded by the narrow peninsula's proximity to one of Lake Michigan's most beautiful bays. In addition to providing stunning vistas, the deep waters of the east and west arms of Grand Traverse Bay serve a multiple purpose: the lingering warmth of the water in the fall helps stave off early frosts, while the bay's cold spring temperatures prevent premature budding during a warm spring. In the winter months, heavy lake-effect snow keeps the vines well-insulated and protected from Northern Michigan's cool climate. Traverse City's warm summers – complete with just the right balance of rainfall and sunlight – provide near-perfect ripening conditions for premium European grapes.

The characteristics of this "micro-climate" result in the production of award-winning Chardonnay, Riesling, Pinot Grigio, Pinot Noir, Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Gewürztraminer and even some sparkling varieties and the prestigious ice wines.
